A curriculum based course in Hepatology for Medical/Surgical GI and acute medical trainees and comprehensive clinical update for consultants

COURSE INFORMATION

We are pleased to invite you to register for a comprehensive course in hepatology to be held at The Royal Free Hospital from the 22nd to 24th May 2018.

The aim of the course is to provide a strong foundation in hepatology and equip both future and current gastroenterologists and acute general physicians to become more expert in the field.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

This three day course aims to provide:

- Clinically focused updates
  - Comprehensive coverage of the pathogenesis, diagnosis, investigation and management of patients with acute and chronic liver disease
  - Topics mapped to the (JRCPTB) curriculum in hepatology with learning outcomes that can be uploaded to the JRCPTB e-portfolio
  - A deeper understanding of the basic science of liver disease
  - Interactive teaching focusing on SCE style SBA questions and real cases
- By the end of the course, you will be able to:
- Identify all areas of the JRCPTB curriculum in hepatology which have been covered within the course and apply them to your own clinical practice
  - Apply learnt knowledge to the Specialty Certificate Examination in Gastroenterology
  - Contribute to the development of Hepatology services within your own hospitals
  - Be more confident in managing hepatology patients on the acute medical take
  - Have a good breadth of knowledge into the science underpinning Hepatology research today
