Overview

This comprehensive course will focus on all aspects of endoscopic pancreaticobiliary care. It will be of interest and relevance to all involved in ERCP and EUS, including established consultants, trainees and endoscopy nurses involved in delivering the care. The focus will be not only on the technical aspects of performing an optimal procedure but on vital areas that are crucial parts to patient care, including service structure and logistics; delivering and receiving training; and the technical and medicolegal issues surrounding complications. The two-day meeting will include dedicated hands-on training on models (a wide range including ERCP cannulation, stenting, stone extraction; therapeutic EUS/LAMS; cholangioscopy), meet the experts sessions, didactic lectures and live endoscopy from London and major international centres.
